Additional comments provided by: John Melniczek

Question 6: The most important job of a school board member is to make sure students are meeting state academic standards in schools where they are safe and nurtured. Do you agree or disagree that this is the most important focus of your position on the school board?

“Regarding question 6, I do agree that one of the most important jobs of a school board member is to make sure students are meeting state academic standards in schools where they are safe and nurtured. Meeting state academic standards does not solely mean passing the state tests. It means ensuring students understand the concepts that are being taught.”
